

FOREST HEALTH: PRACTICAL APPROACHES

Tuesday July 24, 2018

Sanford Center, Bemidji, MN

Thursday August 16, 2018

Cloquet Forestry Center, Cloquet, MN

This pair of workshops will address current forest health threats with a focus on practical, site-level management techniques to address and mitigate them. The workshops are designed for both natural resource managers and logging contractors.

The workshops will provide:

- an overview of local forest health threats for each location,
- on-the ground experience from natural resource professionals that have dealt with forest health issues, and
- practical management approaches to promote healthy forests.
